How many times have you already read today?

Just think about how many times you have already read things today. It really is a vital skill.

Little Wandle Letters and Sounds Revised

Our school has chosen Little Wandle Letters and Sounds Revised as our systematic, synthetic phonics (SSP) programme to teach early reading and spelling

Phonics is:

making connections between the sounds of our spoken words and the letters that are used to write them down.

It sounds complicated but it really isn't!

Blending to read words

Some children learn to blend really quickly, and others take a little longer. If your child is finding it difficult, ask your child's teacher for ways to help at home – playing blending games at home is so helpful!

Teaching order

We usually teach four new sounds a week and have a review lesson on a Friday. You will get a list of the sounds that we are learning to have at home. This will help you with formation and pronunciation.

Gradually your child learns the entire alphabetic code:

Autumn 1	Review tricky words Phases 2–4
Review Phase 3 and 4 Phase 5 loid ay play lowd ou daud loid ay tog leal ea each	Phases 2-4: the pat [] pull [] full [] pull [] to into I no go of he she we me be was you thng all are my by sure pure said have like to do some come love were there little one when out what says here today

We will work our way through the whole Little Wandle Programme until your child can read fluently.

How we make learning stick

There are specific resources for the Little Wandle Programme which the children will be very familiar with. Each sound that we teach to begin with has either a mnemonic (like the astronaut that you can see here) or a phrase like boing-boing for 'oi'. This helps the children recognise and remember the graphemes. Every time we teach a new sound, we also read words during the phonics lesson that contain that new sound, so that the children practise what they have learned. We then go on to reading a sentence containing some of those words. We have displays in the classroom and on the tables to support the children throughout the day.

Reading and Spelling

Reading and spelling

ea

This is an example of what the children learn in Year 1. Children learn that there are graphemes that can have different sounds and sounds that can be made with different letters.

head /e/ break /ai/

Use the backs and fronts of the Phase 5 cards to show 'ea' and 'ow'.

And all the different ways to write the phoneme sh:

shell chef special

caption mansion passion

Spelling

- Say the word.
- Segment the sounds.
- Count the sounds.
- Write them down.

Model the process on a flipchart for the parents to see.

How do we teach reading in books?

Reading practice sessions are:

- timetabled three times a week
- taught by a trained teacher/teaching assistant
- taught in small groups

The children read the same book three times in a week. The first time we work on decoding (sounding out) the words, the second time we work on prosody which is reading with expression – making the book sound more interesting with our storyteller voice or our David Attenborough voice – and the third time we look at comprehension. We read the books three times at school because we want to develop the fluency. The more children see words, the more they begin to read them automatically without having to sound them out.

We use assessment to match your child the right level of book

	ndle Letters essment	and Soun	ds Revised	l Reception
m	a	р	с	0
	g	k	u	h
	t	n	r	f
d	ck	е	b	l
at	man	hug	red	pe ck

We assess your child every six weeks to check progress. Any child who needs extra support has daily keep-up sessions planned for them.

Reading a book at the right level

This means that your child should:

- Know all the sounds and tricky words in their phonics book well.
- Read many of the words by silent blending (in their head) – their reading will be automatic.
- Only need to stop and sound out about 5% of the words by the time they bring the book home – but they should be able to do this one their own.

The most important thing you can do is read with your child

Reading a book and chatting had a positive impact a year later on children's ability to....

- understand words and sentences
- use a wide range of vocabulary
- · develop listening comprehension skills
- The amount of books children were exposed to by age 6 was a positive predictor of their reading ability two years later.

Celebrate child's success at school, make time for reading at home!

As well as the 'learning to read' book that your child will bring home they will also bring home a book for sharing with you. This book is SO important. This is how we are going to give them the WILL to read. Please read with your child as often as you can – at least once a day if possible.

Listening to your child read their phonics book

- Your child should be able to read their book without your help.
- If they can't read a word read it to them.
- Talk about the book and celebrate their success.

It is really important that you pronounce the sounds correctly at home if you are supporting your child. These videos are on the website for you to refer to and if you are unsure, please ask your child's teacher.

Read to your child

The shared book is for YOU to read:

- Make the story sound as exciting as you can by changing your voice.
- Talk with your child as much as you can:
- Introduce new and exciting language.
- Encourage your child to use new vocabulary.
- Make up sentences together.
- Find different words to use.
- Describe things you see.

One of the greatest gifts adults can give is to read to children
